

Looking for a Job?

Fierce Job-Hunting Workshops ... FREE

The City of Auburn and Mark Hovind, President of JobBait, are providing FREE WORKSHOPS to help job seekers maximize their job-finding odds by reaching directly into the hidden job market.

What's in it for you?

- 3 times faster than networking, recruiters and job boards combined.
- 6 times the response rates from hiring decision-makers.
- A value proposition letter and resume to get the attention you deserve.
- Access to the hidden job market where 80% of the jobs are.

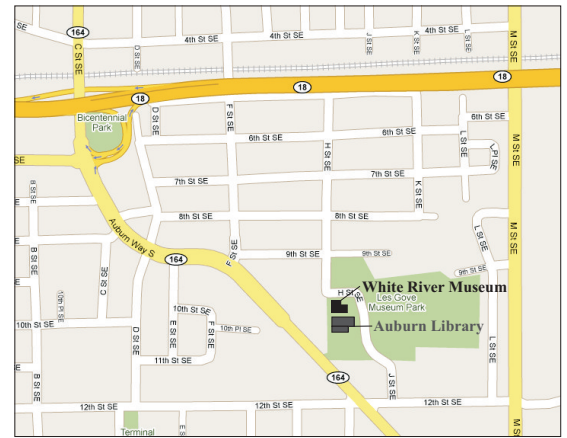

If you've lived, worked or shopped in Auburn, you're invited ... regardless of salary, title or employment status.

From a participant:

"I want to let you know how much I've enjoyed your workshop. I've already spread the word to several friends and groups. I'm really looking forward to the workshop next week."

Every Thursday from 3:30 to 5:00 at the White River Museum, 918 H St SE, north of the Library.

See JobBait.com for details and click on the Auburn Workshops.
